Our Story

Pemberton Park and Leisure Homes, based in the North West of England, has been at the forefront of manufacturing caravan holiday homes for over 75 years.

Our story began in the 1940s post-war era, when two visionary brothers from Pemberton, on the outskirts of Wigan, began converting obsolete railway carriages and buses into basic holiday accommodation. Since then, the Pemberton name has pioneered the caravan and leisure home industry.

In the 1980s, we were among the first to introduce 12ft wide homes. We also launched a groundbreaking accessible holiday home tailored to the needs of wheelchair users and people with disabilities, setting a new benchmark for inclusivity.

Our holiday homes redefined comfort and style within the industry in the 1990s thanks to their superior insulation, electric heating, and elegant interior design. Our commitment to excellence was celebrated in 1992 when we won the coveted Caravan Holiday Home of the Year Award.

In the new millennium, we expanded our range to include the first 14ft wide model. In 2011, we launched our first twin unit, which went on to win the award for the Best Twin Unit consecutively in 2011 and 2012.

Today, Pemberton continues to innovate, using only the best quality materials and the highest standards of workmanship to design and manufacture some of the more durable, luxurious, and energy-efficient holiday homes on the market. We are also proud to be the first leisure home manufacturer to offer customers the opportunity to upgrade any model in our range to Residential Specification, enabling you to enjoy your Pemberton all year round!

What Makes a Pemberton Home Different?

One of the key features of our homes is the attention to detail. Using only the best quality materials and components, our homes are built to the highest standards of workmanship. In addition to their quality construction, they are also designed to be energy-efficient and environmentally friendly. They use modern insulation materials and heating systems to reduce energy consumption and carbon emissions.

Ensuring that Pemberton homes meet the customers' specific requirements and preferences has resulted in a high level of returning customers, some of whose loyalty spans decades.

The Pemberton Design & Building Process

1 Imagining

The Design Team collate information from customers, parks and the sales team. We value feedback to design the ultimate homes for our customer needs. They also look at market trends and visit trade shows to procure new products.

2 Designing

A design is conceived and then the hard work of engineering the new home begins. Regulations and standards are conformed to and materials and components are carefully selected to provide optimum performance and aesthetics.

3 Building

The final stage is to prototype the new home. This is carried out in our manufacturing facility here in Wigan. Our skilled tradesmen and design team work together to build the prototype. Feedback and data is gathered before the official launch.

4 Supplying

All our homes go through a rigorous quality and standards check. Our quality team conduct thorough inspections in the factory before despatch and also after it has reached its new location. All our homes are inspected and signed off by qualified inspectors for EN1647 or BS3632.

PARK & LEISURE HOMES

The first choice for your new home

Distinguishing Between BS3632 and EN1647 Lodges

We are delighted to announce that all Pemberton Park & Leisure Homes are built to the superior BS3632 Residential Specification standard. While EN1647 sets the European benchmark for caravan holiday homes intended exclusively for temporary or seasonal use, BS3632 models are designed for permanent residency (subject to site licensing) and year-round habitation.

What is BS3632 – 2023 Residential Specification?

Initially introduced in 1963, BS3632 represents the British Standard against which all our homes can be constructed. This standard, overseen by The British Standards Institution (BSI), is dedicated to fostering best practices and excellence. The objective of BS3632 is to ensure that residential units offer a secure and comfortable place to live.

In 2015, the British Standard underwent a revision to align more closely with conventional housing norms. A primary focus of BS 3632:2015 was the enhancement of energy efficiency, contributing to the reduction of the ecological footprint of residential park homes in recent years.

The latest iteration, BS 3632:2023, builds upon the foundational principles of its predecessor. In response to an evolving landscape of sustainability, this revision integrates improvements targeting heat loss through the external structure, ventilation enhancements, and vapour control measures. Additionally, the new standard incorporates enhanced safety features and refined construction guidelines.

Insulation – Enhanced thermal insulation significantly enhances the comfort of our homes. Thermal performance is measured as a U-value and the lower the figure the better. BS3632-2023 has improved on these and our roof, walls, floors and windows all exceed this regulation.. Our team of qualified engineers meticulously calculates U-values to ensure that each home meets or surpasses regulatory requirements across roofs, walls, floors, and windows.

Soundproofing – BS3632-2023 sets higher benchmarks for soundproofing within walls. Our walls are rigorously acoustically tested in a laboratory by qualified professionals to ensure compliance. The result is a high quality wall to make living in one of our homes both quiet and relaxing.

Heating Systems – BS3632-2023 mandates the inclusion of heating and hot water systems, precisely tailored to optimise homeowner comfort. We offer a diverse range of heating and hot water options, from LPG combination boilers to all-electric systems, to accommodate various preferences.

Vapour Control – The pursuit of improved energy efficiency has increased the risk of condensation within homes. To address this concern, the new standard incorporates performance criteria aimed at enhancing ventilation and improving indoor air quality.

Enhanced Safety – BS3632-2023 incorporates updates to enhance residential safety. Mandatory installation of graded smoke and heat alarms, along with improvements in means of egress, further underscores our commitment to ensuring homeowner safety.

Each and every home manufactured in our state of the art facility undergoes rigorous testing overseen by qualified inspectors. We ensure compliance with the latest regulations encompassing BS3632, as well as electrical and gas safety standards. Our unwavering dedication to delivering safe and comfortable homes remains a cornerstone of our ethos.

The Regent boasts a rare concept in a 12 ft home and that is the ability to close off the lounge from the kitchen and dining area. Pocket doors are smartly encased behind the lounge shelving unit which provides lots of space for books and photos. The large sofa contrasts well with the luxurious accent chair – one in the 36ft and two in the 38ft home – and the fabrics invoke an atmosphere of calm and serenity.

Park Lane

Both the 43ft x 14ft 2 and 3 bedroom models in the Park Lane range share the spacious kitchen and dining area but have quite different layouts to the back of the home. The kitchen scheme is inspired by three different mediums: graphite, marble and rustic wood. Great care has been taken over the lounge styling with statement accent chairs, a built in fireplace, a drinks table and footstool incorporating a matching table.

No compromises have been made where this is concerned and you will find the same high specification as any other Pemberton lodge. A contemporary treatment has been given to the furniture and the furnishings using a combination of warm colours to harmonise with the opulent dark wood and metal accents.

Rivendale Lodge

The Rivendale is Pemberton's most established luxury lodge offering 5 different layouts ranging from 40 foot to 50 foot options. The stand out offset pitch makes for an interesting layout and provides a generous amount of space in the living areas, where it is most needed. To the side of the lounge area there is a Snug which can be used as an office, a supplementary bedroom (as it contains a sofa bed) or purely a cosy 'den' for some quiet time away from it all.

Image shows 44x20 2 bed

Pemberton Homes are built and certified to the European Standard EN1647 and BS3632 when sited.

Siting & Assembly

When you have chosen your park, selected your pitch and secured your new Pemberton leisure home the next step is siting and assembly.

This requires experienced staff that have been trained by the NCC. They make sure that the twin unit has a completely level platform in order that all the doors and windows can operate correctly and to ensure the white goods are able to function as they should. All Pemberton's engineers have this qualification and adhere to the relevant working practices.

The scope of our siting service extends beyond the borders of the UK and Ireland to the rest of Europe and beyond. Pemberton's siting team are also able to offer a relocation service for twin units.

Please contact our After Sales Department for a breakdown of their services. Details of how to do this can be found on page 82.

10 YEAR WARRANTY Residential Park Home Warranty

Pemberton Park & Leisure Homes are pleased to announce that they are a part of the GoldShield Warranty scheme.

The Goldshield 10 –year warranty is exclusively designed for park home owners. It is provided and administered on behalf of the manufacturers and the NCC, the industry's trade body.

GoldShield maintains an independent financial reserve, funded by member park home manufacturers, to guarantee comprehensive structural coverage for homes registered under the warranty for a duration of 10 years. These exceptional benefits are provided in conjunction with and in addition to the legal rights afforded to purchasers.
